

Breed Standards for the Great Pyrenees

|                     |                                                                                                                                           |
|---------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| General Appearance: | Elegant, imposing and majestic.                                                                                                           |
| Head:               | Eyes medium sized, almond shaped, head wedge shaped, not heavy, slightly rounded crown, ears small to medium, V-shaped with rounded tips. |
| Tail:               | Well plumed                                                                                                                               |
| Coat:               | Weather-resistant double coat consists of a dense, wooly undercoat and a long, flat, coarse outer coat.                                   |
| Color:              | White or white with markings of gray, badger, reddish brown, or tan.                                                                      |
| Size:               | Male: weight 100 pounds, and height 27 – 32 inchesFemale: weight 85 pounds, and height 25 – 29 inches                                 |
| Temperament:        | A capable and imposing guardian, devoted, calm, well-mannered and somewhat serious.                                                       |