

Breed Standards for the Irish Setter

| | |
|---------------------|--|
| General Appearance: | Racy, balanced, and full of quality, the Irish Setter looks a spectacular and handsome sight. |
| Head: | Muzzle moderately deep, medium-size, almond-shaped eyes, long, lean head with distinct stop and well-defined occiput, low-set ears. |
| Tail: | carried straight or slightly curving upward, nearly level with the back. |
| Coat: | Moderate length. |
| Color: | Mahogany or rich chestnut red. |
| Temperament: | A tireless and enthusiastic hunter, and it approaches everything in life with a rollicking, good natured attitude, full of gusto and fervor. |