

Breed Standards for the Miniature Bull Terrier

General Appearance:	This is a strongly built, square-proportioned dog, big boned but not coarse.
Head:	Long, strong, deep head, curving from skull to nose; oval outline viewed face on. Eyes are small, erect, and close set
Body:	Short strong back, slight arch over loin
Tail:	Short, carried horizontally
Color:	White; brindle; black; red; fawn; tri-color
Size:	Weight is about 24 – 33 lb; Height is 10 – 11 inches
Temperament:	The Miniature Bull Terrier is comical, lively, playful, and mischievous. Despite its smaller size, it is not a lap dog. It is every bit as tough as the larger version and apt to want to prove itself even more.
