

Breed Standard for the Puli

General Appearance:	A compact dog of square proportion and medium bone.
Head:	Almond-shaped eyes; skull slightly domed; ears v-shaped, hanging, medium size; back level
Tail:	Carried over back, blending into backline
Gait:	Its gait at a trot is quick stepping, but neither far reaching nor mincing.
Coat:	Its weatherproof coat consists of a soft, woolly, dense undercoat and a wavy or curly outer coat. This coat will form round or flattened cords, but it may also be brushed out.
Color:	Solid black, rusty black, gray, and white
Size:	Weight: 25 – 35 pounds Height: male: ideally 17"; female: ideally 16"
Temperament:	A mop on springs, the Puli is full of bounding energy. It is busy and curious and needs daily exercise. This smart dog is also headstrong and tough.