

Breed Standards for the Staffordshire Bull Terrier

General Appearance:	The Stafford is slightly longer than it is tall, and relatively wide, giving it a low center of gravity and firm stance.
Head:	Medium-sized round eyes; Distinct stop, short foreface; Head short, deep, broad skull, pronounced cheek muscles; Ears rose or half prick, not large
Tail:	Medium length, carried low
Color:	Red, fawn, white, black, or blue, solid or with white; any shade of brindle or brindle with white
Gait:	Should be powerful and agile
Coat:	Smooth, short, and close
Size:	Weight: male: 35-40 lb; female: 30-35 lb Height: male: 18-19"; female 17-18"
Temperament:	A fun-loving character that loves playing with its family and friends. It is typically playful, companionable, amiable, docile, and generally responsive to its owners wishes